Hi, I'm Nick. I'm a cinematographer and colourist who often finds himself editing, and sometimes directing.

A few years ago I did the "Lighting Intensive" short course at AFTRS and fell in love with filmmaking.

I've always had a connection with filmmaking and cut my teeth over many years making music videos.

During the lockdown of 2020 I produced a 6-episode, streamed, music chat show.

I also co-produced a weekly, streamed, short film show that responded to the human experience of the global pandemic.

I've been the Director of Photography on numerous short films and a soon to be released music doco called "Lobsterman".

Alongside lots of interviews, we created music video style excerpts for his music. My favourite was this stop motion.

I have deep experience in the Blackmagic Design ecosystem including DaVinci Resolve and teach people to use their cameras.

My goal is to spend more time behind the camera and less time behind a desk.
